New Doctor Joins Mercy Hospital Staff

Mercy Hospital/Grayling has added James E. Clinton, D.O., internist, to its active medical staff. Dr. Clinton will be practicing with William George, M.D., at the AuSable Medical Associates Clinic on 1010 West County Road.

Dr. Clinton comes to Mercy Hospital from Detroit Receiving Hospital in Detroit. A 1982 graduate of the Michigan State University College of Osteopathic Medicine, Dr. Clinton completed his residency training in internal medicine at Wayne State University Affiliated Hospitals Program. He is certified by the American Board of Internal Medicine.

Dr. Clinton is a member of the American Society of Internal Medicine, the American Medical Association, the American College of Physicians, the Michigan Association of Osteopathic Physicians and Surgeons, among other professional affiliations. He and his wife, Denise, are living in Grayling with their three children.

Those wishing to make an appointment with Dr. Clinton may call his office at 348-8987.

Shriner Units Highlight Milltown Festival Parade

The day is fast approaching for Grayling's AuSable Milltown Festival Parade that promises to be the biggest and best ever. The highlight of the parade will be the 19 Shriner's units from across the state of Michigan, but many other outstanding participants will also be featured in the parade.

Joseph Stripe, Grand Marshal, will be proud of the parade that follows him down Michigan Avenue on Saturday, July 28, beginning at 3 p.m. Besides the bagpipers and the bands, there will be many business entries, veterans units, antique cars and the 5th Michigan Regiment Band.

Plans are now being finished for entertainment in the downtown area throughout the day. Parking will be prohibited on Michigan Avenue downtown from Mac's Drugs Store to the County Courthouse so everyone will have an opportunity to enjoy the downtown festivities.

Betty Bennett and Donna Thomson along with their assistants from the Grayling Promotional Association have been meeting regularly all year to see that this is a first class parade for all to remember. GPA, a women's civic organization, sponsors the annual Milltown Parade.

Bring your children, grandchildren, aunts, uncles, nieces, nephews, and anyone else that is visiting.

Grayling Youth Saves 4-Year-Old From Drowning

By Irene Pettyjohn

Nowadays, when heroes come in the form of comic strip characters like superman and ninja turtles, it is refreshing to find real live heroes living practically next door. Last week a Grayling teenager became a hero to Tim and Laura McGuire, of Dearborn, when he saved the life of their four-year-old son, Joe Henry.

Buddy Latesky, 16, was swimming with four friends at Kneff Lake on Tuesday, July 3, near the beach where the McGuire family had gathered with family and friends, when Buddy's girlfriend, Ellen Watros, also of Grayling, spotted something white floating in the water. Thinking it was probably a t-shirt, Buddy went over to "check it out," and found Joe Henry floating face down in the water.

"I grabbed him and ran to the beach and started mouth-to-mouth resuscitation," said Buddy. "After about a minute he started coughing up water, then he cried."

Buddy had learned CPR in a health class a couple years ago when he was a student at the Swartz Creek Middle School.

Joe Henry's parents rushed over while Buddy was doing mouth-to-mouth.

The McGuires estimated their son was in the water approximately three minutes.

"We usually watch him like a hawk," said Joe Henry's mother, Laura.

She said there was a lot of horseplay going on with the adults throwing each other in the lake. She said she and Tim were momentarily distracted.

"Joe Henry must have followed them to the water because the next thing I knew Joe was on the beach with his eyes rolled back and bluish in color," said Laura.

The McGuires took Joe Henry to Grayling's Mercy Hospital at about 5 p.m. and he was transferred to Munson Medical Center's pediatric intensive care unit later that evening where doctors watched for any type of lung problems. He was released the following day.

While at Mercy Hospital, the McGuires said Dr. Bersted told them, "The one who saved him is the one who took him from the water. It's important to get them out fast."

"He is fine and we are so lucky," said Laura. "We will never be able to repay Buddy."

"This all happened on Joe's birthday," said Joe Henry's father, Tim. "Thanks to Buddy he will have a fifth."

The McGuires said their lives will never be quite the same.

"What a thin line there is between life and death," said Laura. "I am more grateful for the kindness of strangers. We can watch, we can think we are being careful, but in the end, we have to rely on others," she said.

"I'm happy he is alive," said Buddy.

The McGuire family was vacationing near Kellogg Bridge when the accident occurred.

New-Born Babies Receive Clothing From Local Women

By Irene Pettyjohn

People who shop at garage sales are usually looking for specific items. Some look for antique dishes or glassware. Others look for old books or furniture. Men look for tools. Marian Joseph and Doris Souders look for baby clothes. Not for their own children, they are all raised now with children of their own. Marian and Doris buy clothes for infants born to mothers in Crawford County who cannot afford clothes for their babies.

Marian, a retired businesswoman, and Doris, a retired county librarian, first became involved with clothing infants about four years ago through their work with the Outreach Group at their church. This group of about 15 women made baby quilts, shirts, sacks and nightgowns, and assembled them into packets for shipment to infants in Africa.

"The group had worked long and hard preparing each packet," said Marian, "but for some reason, we never understood why, the clothes never reached their destination."

Marian suggested to the group that they find a local agency to support and they contacted Kenquest House.

"I feel there are so many problems in the world," she said. "And a good place to begin helping is in our own communities."

Working through Kenquest House, Marian said the group began giving each girl coming to the home a diaper bag, filled with different items used by a newborn.

"We began working with the Kenquest girls to show them we care, that someone loves them," said Marian. "It has been very fulfilling for the women of the church and the girls have appreciated it."

About a year later, Marian met the county health nurse, Marie Mahaney, who told her about the other young women in Grayling who deliver their babies and have nothing for the infant to wear.

"Nothing to even take the baby home from the hospital in,"

said Marian. "They desperately need anything for a newborn such as receiving blankets, blankets, undershirts, one-piece pajamas, sweaters, booties, and hats."

Recycling Corner

By Carol Wakeley

I touched a bit on plastics last week and would like to go into it a bit deeper this week. I don't want to bore you with the topic of plastics, but production of plastic is certainly on the increase which means our non-renewable sources (oil and natural gas) are being depleted.

The manufacturing of plastic involves two processes and two industries. First, there is the plastic-resin production industry which converts industrial organic chemicals into plastic resins, and second, the plastics-processing industry that forms these resins into end products. Plastic resins are made by linking small groups of molecules into chains called polymers. Through polymerization, propylene is made into polypropylene (PP), natural gas and crude oil are made into polyethylene terephthalate (PET), styrene into polystyrene (PS), and vinyl chloride into polyvinyl chloride (PVC).

No one really thinks of plastics as toxic. By the time they reach the supermarket shelves they're not. It's what goes on in plastic production and now in some cases plastic recycling that creates hazardous waste and toxic emissions. It is the extreme heat involved in both processes that causes the toxic elements to vaporize. Some additives used to color the plastics contain heavy metals such as lead, cadmium, and nickel. These do not combust and remain behind in the ash or in the air.

The following is a list of toxic chemicals used in plastic packaging:

Benzene. Colorless and highly flammable liquid. Used in the production of PVC and LDPE (low density polyethylene).

Cadmium Compounds. Used as pigments (red, orange, and maroon) in PET, LDPE, HDPE, and other plastics.

Carbon Tetrachloride. Colorless, non-flammable liquid. Used as a solvent for other resins and in the polymerization of PVC.

Chromium (VI) Oxide. Used as a catalyst in HDPE and LDPE.

Diazomethane. Yellow gas. Used in PET polymerization.

Lead Compounds. Used as pigments in PET, HDPE, and most other plastics.

Styrene. A colorless, aromatic liquid made from benzene.

Vinyl Chloride. A colorless, odorless gas about twice as dense as air.

All these chemicals have serious and sometimes fatal side effects for the factory workers exposed to them and for the rest of us who must inhale any residue.

With plastic being a major part of the solid waste problem, recycling efforts are increasing, but so is the incineration of plastics. If PVCs are incinerated, hydrochloric acid is released. It is not harmful to humans in low concentration but does do damage to plants, buildings, and the incinerator itself. Most other plastics that are being incinerated should have their toxic emissions collected in a special device in the smokestack of the incinerator, but these devices are extremely expensive and probably not used where they should be.

The idea of photodegradable and biodegradable plastics is also becoming more popular. To make plastic photodegradable a light sensitive additive must be mixed into a standard plastic resin or the polymers themselves. To make it biodegradable an additive such as starch can be mixed in. These are still going to leave residue in the package contents itself or in the landfill.

If consumers see the term "degradable" they believe that recycling is not necessary and that the item will just disappear no matter where it is discarded. Littering will increase our non-renewable resources still being used up, and degradable items do not degrade fast enough to extend the life of a landfill. Besides, if a photodegradable plastic is buried in a landfill, it's not going to do anything. Plastics that are dumped into oceans and seas (and there are tons and tons every year) kill, debilitate, or injure the marine and freshwater life there no matter how good they claim to be.

Start minimizing your use of plastics. Reuse them as much as you can and then recycle them. Substitute a cloth shopping bag so you don't have to use plastic or paper. Seventh Generation (the catalog mentioned in last week's article) has cellulose bags. Use wicker laundry baskets, cotton shower curtains, glass bowls, anything you can substitute for plastic — do it.

Letters to the Editor

Reader Asks For Help In Challenging DSS

Letter to the editor:

I need help to keep the Department of Social Services from sending my 7-year-old daughter, Missy, to the Indian Reservation near Mt. Pleasant.

I am handicapped and use a wheelchair as the result of an accident in 1973. Last December I also found out I had bone disease. In January, DSS placed Missy in a foster care home.

Now they want to send her to the reservation, to a place where she doesn't know anyone.

I have a friend in Minnesota who would take good care of her. He's not rich, but makes a good living, is a good man, and loves her. She would be happy with him.

Why does DSS want to waste taxpayers' money and keep her in foster care when I know someone who can take care of her?

DSS is trying to bully me.

They have a lot of power and no one likes to fight back. Just because I'm handicapped doesn't mean I should lose everything. I've already lost enough. No one is more capable of taking care of my daughter than me. Will someone help me get hold of the right judge or politician to help me fight DSS?

Writer Says Lending Institutions Unfair to S.S.I. Recipients

It has come to our attention, when recently applying for a mortgage, that our local lending institutions have different criteria for disabled residents. It is an odd occurrence that these local lending institutions will accept Department of Social Services (D.S.S.) check as current income and refer to it as a stable income, but will not accept Supplemental Security Income (S.S.I.) as a current, stable income.

A person diagnosed as Emotionally Mentally Impaired (E.M.I.) has a better chance of keeping the diagnosis and the income provided by the Federal Government indefinitely than the person receiving a D.S.S. check provided by the State government, which terminates when the children turn 18 years of age.

We have contributed our time, family members, and skills to aid the community in whatever capacity we have been asked to do. We have aided the community during celebrations (directing traffic, cleaning the area); aided the State Police in finding lost people; aided the D.N.R. in forest fire traffic control, and have never asked for anything in return.

Guards Deserve Big Thank You For Efforts

After reading the Avalanche of June 28 regarding the National Guard taking care of the big erosion problem along the Manistee River and their Earth Day clean up, had we not had the Guard here to help fight the big fire we had there would have been more damage done then was.

I would like to say that we all owe the Guard a big thank you for a job well done. I would like to ask the Camp Grayling Advisory Council when are you going to go after the DNR officers in Lansing to stop leasing the land to the oil companies who are doing most of the damage to the environment not the Guard who are getting the blame for everything?

I would like to let Mr. Dan Alstott know that he and his friends owe the Guard an apology and a thank you. The apology is for blaming the Guard for doing all the damage to the environment and the thank you is for helping to take care of environment.

Joe Stanek
Grayling

All we want to do is make a better home and life for our children by asking for a small mortgage amount to better our living facilities. We already own the property and foundation outright for the new home; all we want is a chance to build the home. We accept the responsibility for payment and have always paid our bills. We'd like to see these people at the lending institutions put themselves in our situation and see how they handle it.

In conclusion, we do not feel that we should be discriminated against just because of our educational background. We may not have as much as others, but we give more and receive less!

UMRA Puts Manistee's Interest Above All Else

Dear Editor:

I'd like to clear the air on an issue that's been bothering myself and some other folks on the west side of this community who have an interest in the Manistee River.

We have a fine recent addition to our riparian activists by the name of Dr. Joe Kutkuhn, who has, at great personal expense — both time and money — put a huge effort into coordinating the restoration of one of this country's finest trout streams, the Manistee River. There have been a few rumors flying of late which allege that Joe and the Upper Manistee River Association (UMRA) have

"sold out to the guard."

This is unequivocally not so. The Department of Military Affairs has paid a large sum of money ($45,000) to be used for the restoration of one of the Manistee's largest tributaries — Portage Creek. We, UMRA, solicited this contribution because we felt it was due and the DMA is to be thanked and commended for this action. The National Guard is also to be thanked for their work on another large erosion site on the river this month.

But this does not mean that Joe's or UMRA's soul is owned by Camp Grayling. On the contrary, I expect Joe, as he has always done, to be quite up-front in all his dealings and to put the river's interest above all else. And UMRA is still affiliated with the AuSable/Manistee Action Council and supports its policies and activities.

Reader Concerned About Lake Margrethe Water Safety

To the Editor:

I don't mean to criticize our Sheriff Dept. However, I think some more efficient marine water safety management can be done.

I happen to know that marine officers can be recruited to manage our beautiful Lake Margrethe, and they need the experience along with their law enforcement schooling, at a minimum wage.

Since the vehicles on the lake are licensed by the state of Michigan, it may be the responsibility of the state to police the lake (water).

If I'm out of order in bringing this to light, I'd appreciate our officers to inform us.

I must commend our Sheriff Dept. in the fine job they have done and I don't mean to burden them further. But please search out a means to help us.

Mandela: Veni, vidi, vici

In some ways, Nelson Mandela has proved to be a modern-day Julius Caesar.

Mr. Mandela on his recent triumphant tour of the United States was like Caesar of old.

Veni. Vidi. Vici. He came. He saw. He conquered.

It's tough to recall when any international political figure aroused the popular acclaim stirred up by Mr. Mandela on his eight-city swing through the United States to spread his gospel of anti-apartheid and to collect millions of dollars for his political party.

Lech Walesa did not arouse such near-universal acclaim. Mikhail Gorbachev fell short of the Mandela standard. Pope John Paul II was probably in the same neighborhood, crowd-wise; but the Pope didn't get a ticker-tape parade in downtown New York like Mr. Mandela did.

WHY DID A SINGLE person, who has been out of the public spotlight for the last quarter-century, gain such favor in the United States? That question is open to hundreds of interpretations.

Mr. Mandela certainly is dramatic, both in style and in substance. The conditions of his present existence are high drama, too. Mr. Mandela was jailed 27 years ago for his strong anti-apartheid stand and all it entailed. In jail, he remained vigorous and strong, perhaps even gaining in his own convictions and inner strength.

In all probability, Mr. Mandela would not have had the strong public appeal we did wide had he not spent 27 years in prison. If he had remained outside jail, and carried on his anti-apartheid struggle day by day as have so many others, his charisma most probably would not be as great as it is today.

A great part of the Mandela attraction is his apparent complete lack of bitterness because of imprisonment. Let bygones be bygones, he has counseled; that is not only wise advice, but it also adds to his current attraction.

Nelson Mandela is a genuine hero-figure. Everyone can relate to him somehow; America's black minority especially has embraced this man and his message.

THERE ARE SOME rumblings of discontent about Mr. Mandela, centered generally on his refusal to back off past positions. He calls Fidel Castro and Khaddafi and Arafat his friends; they supported him and his cause in the past...he supports them now.

Some worry that Mr. Mandela continues to hold that violence in pursuit of his goals of ending apartheid and establishing full black participation in South African affairs would be perfectly proper.

Some worry that Mr. Mandela embraces the traditional communist goals and methods of achieving them. In view of the way communism seems to be falling apart in country after country around the globe, this may not be as worrisome as it could have been in years past.

CERTAINLY NELSON Mandela has cast a welcome light into the dark corners of South African injustice and inequality.

Certainly there is much to be admired about this man as an international figure. He appears gentle, yet firm. He is a good speaker and phrase-maker. He is a master at using today's technology in communicating. He can arouse sympathy and support.

He has emerged from human travail which would have broken the spirit if not the body of most people, but seems to be as strong in both will and body as if his prison had never existed. He can inspire. He can lead.

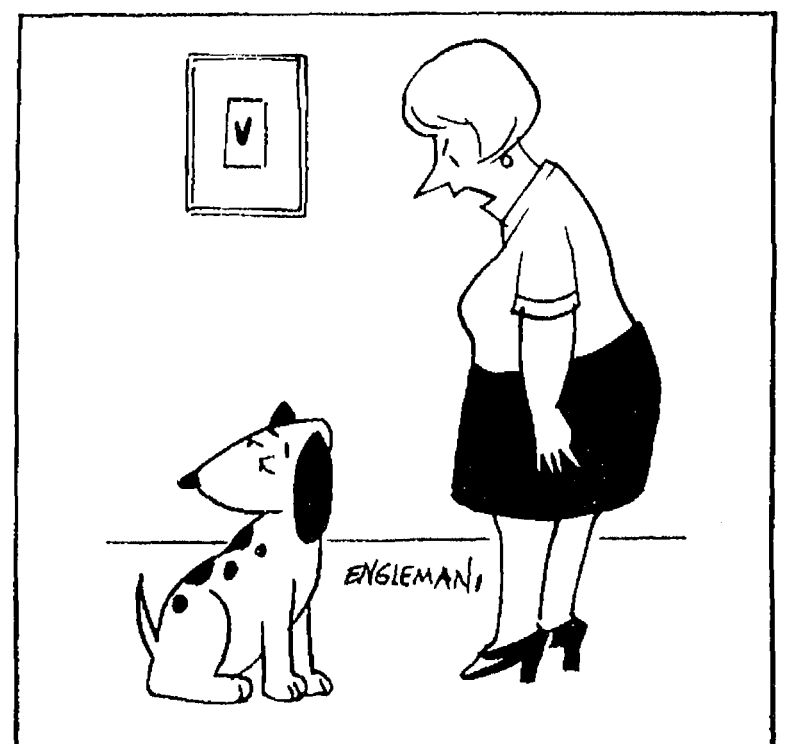

Yet there is some cause for concern.

His words are hard words, but said in a gentle manner with gentle phrases.

His African National Congress, he maintains, must negotiate the peace in South Africa and the end of apartheid with the South African government. Yet the ANC is a political party, and is not the only force in Africa which has been battling apartheid.

Mr. Mandela has taken from America millions of dollars for his ANC efforts. He still believes — and has said so — that violence may be necessary under certain circumstances.

Bloody civil war, with Nelson Mandela as the leader, is still very possible in South Africa.

Let's Talk About It

By Joe Murphy

Saturday night, the 30th of June, I attended the Frederic High School Alumni dinner at the Legion Hall. Talk about a really great time that was it. Greeting old friends I did note that they seemed a little older than I remember back in school days at Frederic. Why, some had aged to the point where they didn't even recognize me. The ladies of the Legion Auxiliary served a great meal and everything went just right. A great deal of effort by many people made it a wonderful evening we'll remember a long time.

Often wonder how the old time farmer managed to get all the work done. Maybe they, like my Dad, had certain days of the year to start certain jobs. To my Dad the fifth of July was, if weather permitted, the day to start haying. On that day you could bet money he would be out there mowing hay. That started about six weeks of hard work. The hay he cut one day I would rake the next forenoon as he cut more hay. In the afternoon we hauled in hay and stacked it. This routine went on day after day if the weather was good. I remember the first thing Dad, after he got dressed, did was go walk in the grass. If there was dew we were all set, no rain that day. If there was no dew we rushed to get the raked hay in before it rained. When rain threatened we worked straight through till we got it in and covered. We had a lot of livestock to feed and couldn't afford to lose much hay to rain. When the weather was good we put in can't days to get our hay in. All our work was done with horses in those days. I thought when Dad bought a hay loader that saved all the work of pitching the hay on the wagon that we had reached the peak of progressive farming. Today's farmer in the air conditioned comfort of his tractor cab listening to his stereo sure has it better than the old time farmer except for the worry about how he'll pay for it.

I have been contacted by a few folks that have stories or historical information they are willing to share with others. I am very happy about it for that was my whole purpose of this column. If you have a bit of our area's history you would be willing to share with others let's get together and Let's Talk About It.

You can contact me by phone at 348-8308 or by mail or in person at 603 Maple St. Come on, let's not let any more of our history be carried to the graveyard.

Clothing

So Marian began going to garage sales and buying baby clothes and when Doris heard what Marian was doing, she joined the effort.

"I recruited her and I don't know what I would do without her," said Marian. "She loves to go to rummage sales and she knows exactly what to get."

Marian said she looks only for items that are "like new" are "very soft" and "size 0 to 6 months" that will fit and feel comfortable to newborns.

They wash and fold each tiny garment and then Marian gives them to Marie, who distributes them where they are most needed. The two women never meet the mothers or the babies who benefit from their generosity.

"These babies need a lot of clothes because their mothers usually don't have their own washing machines," she explained. "Most have to go to a laundromat."

In addition to clothing, Marian purchases baby yarn and gives it to RSVP volunteers who knit and crochet new sweaters and bonnets.

"Several of our volunteers knitting for this project are shut-ins, confined to their homes," said Bonnie Shearer, RSVP program coordinator for Crawford County. "Knowing they are helping has given purpose to their lives." Bonnie said a second group of RSVP volunteers are knitting hats and mittens for school age children.

Marian compares her project to a food pantry.

"People go to a food pantry because they do not have enough to eat," she said. "These mothers are very conscientious, they just don't have enough money to buy clothes for their children. It makes me sad to think there are babies that don't have any clothing."

Occasionally, Marie has asked Marian and Doris to expand their effort to include clothes for older children and has asked if they could begin purchasing boots and mittens for school aged children this fall.

Marian finances their shopping spree through contributions from friends, who know about her project, church circles, civic organizations, and often from her own purse.

During one winter, the Business and Professional Women's organization had a shower for Marian's project, with each member bringing something for a baby.

"This was great," she said. "In the winter it is harder to get clothes because people don't have rummage or garage sales when the weather is cold."

Last winter Marian said there was a family who needed clothing for older children.

"The woman worked, but she just didn't have any money to buy clothing for her children who were in kindergarten or first grade," explained Marian.

"A young friend and a group of her friends brought me a beautiful array of clothing for newborns on up to second grade and the woman was thrilled," she said.

When Irma Longenecker, a member of the Outreach Group who had been involved a similar clothing project through the Lansing hospitals some years back, heard what Marian was doing, she predicted Marian's project would be successful and that she would always have enough money for her purchases.

"I can't remember exactly how we started getting money, but we did," said Marian, "and somehow we have always received money when we needed it."

Marian said she has $13 left in her clothes account, part of a $30 donation she received several months ago from the St. Francis Episcopal Church.

"This should last for another couple of weeks," she said.

Anyone desiring to help with Marian and Doris' project can do so by sending a financial contribution to the Crawford County Avalanche, Box M-J, Grayling, MI 49738.

"I know the people in Grayling are more than willing to help if they know what to do," said Marian.

"The project has been very worthwhile and I enjoy doing it, especially because the need is so great," she said.

Doris said the project is part of her personal missionary work.

"This is something I can still do at my age, that makes a difference in the community," she said.

Besides providing infant clothing to the Crawford County Health Dept., Marian and Doris continue to work with the Outreach Group at the Michelson Memorial United Methodist Church.

Camp AuSable Hosts Five Different Camps

Five different and distinct camps are being conducted at Camp AuSable this week. They are Senior Citizens, Aquatic, ATV Minitrail, Horsemanship, and Gymnastics.

The General Director is Terry Dodge. He is the new Associate Youth Director for the Michigan Conference of Seventh-day Adventists and replaces Merrill Fleming who served in this capacity for 27 years from 1964 to 1990. Dodge came from Wyoming where he was area Pathfinder Director in the Rocky Mountain Conference.

The Minitrail and Horsemanship camps take to the trails and crosscountry paths. Food is provided by Rex Townsend and transported to designated camping places along the trails.

Resident camps are conducted at Camp AuSable. Aquatics will be at Higgins Lake one day during the week for extra opportunity to sail and water ski. Senior Citizens are scheduled to visit places of special interest such as The Call of the Wild, Hartwick Pines and the Fish Hatchery.

All will be at the base camp for Saturday. On this day Sabbath School is conducted in the Campfire Bowl overlooking Lake Shellenbarger. The worship service has Pastor Steve Yeagley for the preacher. This will be in the Chapel in the Woods for all campers.

Dinner or lunch is different — it is a box lunch prepared in advance by the food service. Campers may eat in their cabins, at an outdoor picnic table, or even a secluded place in the forest.

The concluding event will be a Campfire program directed by Dave Yeagley. It is titled "The Pearl of Great Price" and will be performed in the lakeside campfire bowl by selected staff members.

Sunday these campers leave AuSable and a new group of family campers come for seven days of camping at beautiful Camp AuSable.

Bits of Talk

By Fay Bovee

Have you visited the Crawford County Historical Museum yet? Since the museum opened in May there have been 725 adults and 450 children visit it. Are you one of them? If not there is something to see right in your own hometown. Two exchange students from Spain and West Germany were among the visitors last week. Rumor has it that some of you Grayling folks don't even know we have one—for your information it's right down there at the old Depot right by the railroad tracks. Come and be surprised.

Roy and Joyce Vogelsberg were in Fishkill, New York, the weekend of June 22 where they attended the wedding of her nephew, Christopher Larson, on Saturday, June 23.

Diane Zalecki and children, GJ and Kristen of Sterling Heights spent the weekend with her parents, the Roy Vogelsbergs. Their other daughter, Lisa, husband, Keith Freckhack, and son Matthew, are to leave Cairo, Egypt on July 13 to return to Chicago to live. They have spent the past two and one half years in Cairo.

Jean Feldhauser of Edwards AF Base, California, arrived on July 5 to visit her parents, the Ralph Stevens, and the Norman Feldhausers. Tom Feldhauser and son, Johathon, are arriving on July 16 to visit and they will all return to California together.

Howard Stephan Jr. and Suzanne Szatwicz were married at the Nativity United Church of Christ in Livonia on July 7, 1990. The bride's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Robert Szatwicz of Florida.

The groom's Parents are Howard and Shirley Stephan of Livonia. The couple will be honeymooning at the Stephan's Grayling cottage and will travel further north before returning to reside in Novi. The groom's grandparents were the late Howard and Dorothy Stephan and his great-grandparents were the late Daniel and Pansy Stephan.

Robert and Shirley Knutilla of Albuquerque, New Mexico, and their children, Capt. and Mrs. Thomas Knutilla of Huntsville, Alabama, and Mr. and Mrs. Gary Taylor and family of Weidman, spent ten days at the Knutilla cottage at the lake. Other guests for several days were Mr. and Mrs. Bill Justusson of Dearborn, and Mr. and Mrs. Robert Leiprath of Williamston. The Knutillas hosted a family gathering on the Fourth of July. While the Knutillas were enroute from New Mexico, they received word that his mother, Mrs. Carl Knutilla, of Ironwood had passed away and they went to the UP for the funeral on Tuesday, June 26.

Visitors at the Mary Jane Knibbs home for the holiday week were most of her family, Holly Knibbs from Plaistow, New Hampshire, the Michael Elliotts from Ann Arbor, and the Jim Knibbs from Petoskey. They were here to help celebrate Jim's Fourth of July birthday.

Amy Hough, who has finished her second year at Alma, is spending the summer with her parents, Jim and Florence Hough, and is employed by the DNR.

Promoting Economic Progress
Group Seeks More Members

A new organization is getting underway in Crawford County. Promoting Economic Progress or P.E.P. is the brainchild of Don Geiss. The objectives are to encourage controlled progress. The people of Crawford County need, if we are to grow and prosper, a growing industrial base. Industries that are environmentally safe will be encouraged to consider Crawford County in any plans to expand present or future operations.

P.E.P. supports Camp Grayling and the other employers who have set up operations here providing much needed employment. They do not say growth at any price, but those employers whose operations will not be harmful to this area will be welcomed with open arms.

Many people would be content if nothing ever changed. It would be nice if everyone had a good income and the area did not need employers but such is not the case. If residents want their children and grandchildren to be able to live here and enjoy the beauty, they must have a means of earning their livelihood. Dues are only five dollars a year.

P.E.P. is in need of members to help promote their goals of promoting economic progress while protecting the environment. For membership, contact Joe Murphy at 348-8308.

Frederic Girl Wins Camp
Grayling Club Contest

It was a battle of the birds as over 100 young children had to wait patiently to see which of their birdhouses would yield a baby bird in a contest sponsored by the Camp Grayling Conservation Club.

The winning birdhouse was completed and installed by Paula Snay, 10, of Frederic. For her prize, she was awarded a new bicycle by members of the club. The bird which helped Paula win the speed battle was a tree swallow, she said. Bluebirds and sparrows sat on the eggs in other birdhouses.

Members of the club handed out over 300 birdhouse kits to students in Grayling and Frederic Elementary Schools. The rules stipulated that a student who wished to enter the contest should fill out an application form and submit it to the club. It was permitted for a parent or friend to help put the kit together and place it in an appropriate location.

From then on, it was a matter of waiting for the eager bird youngsters. Plans call for the Camp Grayling Conservation Club to run the contest again next year.

BICYCLE WINNER--Paula Snay, 10, of Frederic, was the recent winner of a bicycle from the Camp Grayling Conservation Club in its birdhouse contest.

C-O Landfill
Raises Rates

Due to Act 641 and the amendments surrounding that Act, the Department of Natural Resources has made it necessary for the Crawford/Otsego Landfill to increase the rates at the Landfill by $1.00 per yard.

According to John B. Miller, Executive Director of the Center, in-county rates will be $6 per yard and out-of-county haulers will be paying $7 per yard.

The increase in tipping fees will go into effect on August 1, 1990.

Thank You

Olson Smashes Course Record

Herb Olson, of Grayling, smashed the Grayling Country Club course record with a six-under par 30 on the nine-hole course.

Olson beat the previous record of 32 and the new record will likely not be broken because the Grayling Country Club is changing to 18 holes on July 20.

Olson set the record Tuesday, July 3. He birdied hole number one and parred two and three. He then birdied four, five, six, seven, and eight. On eight, he chipped in the hole from off the green. He parred nine to beat the old record of 32 set by Dr. Robert Schwarz off the white tees and 32 by Grayling Country Club pro Mike Hoffman off the blue tees.

Witnessing the record round during a regular league match was Craig Hinkle, Dale Melroy, and Paul Olson. The new 18-hole Grayling Country Club course will be a par 70.

River House Shelter Receives Service Award

River House Shelter, a local domestic violence program sponsored by Mercy Hospital, is the first recipient of the Michigan Hospital Association Community Service Award.

The award, which honors a health care provider for exemplary contributions in community service and community support, was presented to Ferne Farber, River House Director, and Dennis Renander, President and Chief Executive Officer of Mercy Health Services North, by Ed Thomas, Chairman of the Board of the Michigan Hospital Association. The presentation took place at the M.H.A. Corporate Membership meeting held on Mackinac Island on June 28.

In order to be eligible for the award, programs were required to demonstrate a collaborative effort with their community for the betterment of their citizens. Special consideration was given to health care related programs designed to enhance the quality of life for the elderly, children, or the poor.

The River House Shelter program was nominated for the award by Stephanie Riemer, Vice President of Administrative Services at Mercy Hospital. River House was chosen from a field of over forty candidates because of its dedication to improving the lives of domestic violence victims and their dependant children in the four county rural area the shelter serves (Crawford, Oscoda, Ogemaw and Roscommon counties).

The shelter, which was established in 1986 by Grayling

Mercy Hospital and the Crawford County Department of Social Services, provides a variety of services, including a twenty-four hour crisis line (517-348-8972), a safe home, support groups and community education programs.

COMMUNITY SERVICE AWARD--River House Director Ferne Farber holds an award presented by the Michigan Hospital Association For Community Service. Also pictured are: Dennis Renander, President and CEO, Mercy Health Services North; Stephanie Riemer, Vice President of Administrative Services, Mercy Hospital; John Walkly, Mercy Hospital-Grayling Governing Council Member; and Mike Matuzak, Chairman, River House Shelter Advisory Board.

(1) Rate per MMBTU excludes monthly service charge

(2) Includes June 1990 GCR rate of $3.30 per MCF

MichCon states that the proposed rate increase of approximately $24 million will be more than offset by reductions in its GCR gas costs and most customer billings are not expected to increase.

MichCon is a Michigan corporation with principal offices located at 500 Griswold Street, Detroit, and is engaged in the distribution, sale, and transportation of natural gas to approximately one million residential, commercial and industrial customers in Michigan.

MichCon's rate request consists of two components. The first component relates primarily to costs incurred to utilize storage more extensively to serve its Gas Cost Recovery (GCR) customers. MichCon proposes an increase of $19,919,000 in rates to be reflected in its January 1992 billings. The second component relates to costs associated with system integration, principally attributable to a transportation arrangement with ANR Pipeline Company (ANR). MichCon proposes an increase in rates of $4,110,000 to become effective the date it commences gas transportation services pursuant to a precedent agreement and transportation agreement with ANR. MichCon also requests that any revenues associated with new transportation service for ANR arising from the possible expansion of MichCon's facilities be exempt from the 80/20 Refund Mechanism inasmuch as the costs of any such facilities are not currently reflected in its rates.

MichCon's filing is available for inspection at the offices of the Commission's Executive Secretary, 6545

Mercantile Way, Lansing, Michigan, and at the offices of Michigan Consolidated Gas Company, 500 Griswold Avenue, Detroit, Michigan.

Games continued at the city park in the afternoon despite the 90-degree heat. Coin searches, balloon tosses, tug-of-wars, obstacle course races, and free watermelon were part of the events. Fireworks in downtown Grayling ended the festive day.

Frederic High Stages Annual Alumni Reunion

The Frederic High School Alumni Reunion was held on Saturday, June 30, at the American Legion Hall in Grayling.

At 6:00 p.m. attendees were met at the door by greeters, Elsie Larson and Beatrice Tobin, Class of 1927. Registration and check-in followed, and a chance to greet old friends before dinner was served by the American Legion Auxiliary Ladies.

President Jack Post extended a welcome to the 84 members, spouses, and friends in attendance, followed by a prayer given by Fred Allen, who began with a moment of silence for all our departed Alumni members.

After a gratifying and delicious meal including the traditional school-decorated cake, made and decorated by Alumni member Edna (Dunckley) Kitchen, President Post introduced Herb Olson, Class of 1938, of Flint who entertained with guitar playing and singing that was enjoyed by all.

Dinner and dance music was provided throughout the evening by Joe Schaller and friend of Gaylord. The group has enjoyed Joe's music and has been happy to have him play for the past several years.

The business meeting was conducted by President Post, who began with a memorial to George Ray, George Rolfe, and George Seeley, who all lost their lives during World War II.

President Post presented a paperweight, made by Carl Richter and inscribed with the names of the Class of 1940, to the only member of that class in attendance—Elmer Kellogg—in celebration of their 50th anniversary. However the paperweights were being sent to the other class members.

Two former teachers were then introduced and honored: Helen Brooks Madsen and Beverly Spaulding.

The Treasurer's report was given by Treasurer Carl Richter and approved as read.

Following was the Library Memorial report given by Helma Corsaut Post, Class of 1934.

The following books were placed in the Frederic Library in the past year: "Bird Hunting with Dalmatians" for Melvin Vallad, Class of 1942; "Golfing School—Eddie Birchough" for Phil Dunckley, Class of 1941; "The Crocheter's Quilt Book—Elyce Somner" for Joyce (Roed) Huisman, Class of 1963; "Basketball—Robert Fox" for Roland Hummel, Class of 1953. And a book has been ordered for Mildred (Dunckley) McGregor, Class of 1943, who passed away just recently.

Our thanks go to Helma for doing such a great job in ordering books and taking charge of this memorial.

Again this year a beautiful afghan was made and donated for the raffle by Mrs. Carl Richter. The raffle and prizes were aptly handled by Guy Kellogg.

The afghan was won by Lee Kellogg. The oldest class members present were: Elsie Burke Larson, Beatrice Wixon Tobin, and Marguerite Richards Peoples, Class of 1927, who received gift certificates.

The person coming the farthest was Georgia (Nugent) Edie, who lives in Utah. The youngest class member was Pam (Spaulding) Alma, Class of 1965.

Door prizes went to Marguerite Peoples and Georgia Nugent Edie. Several of these prizes were hand made by members of the committee and their spouses, including picture frames made by Guy Kellogg and a Christmas tree skirt made by Midge Richter.

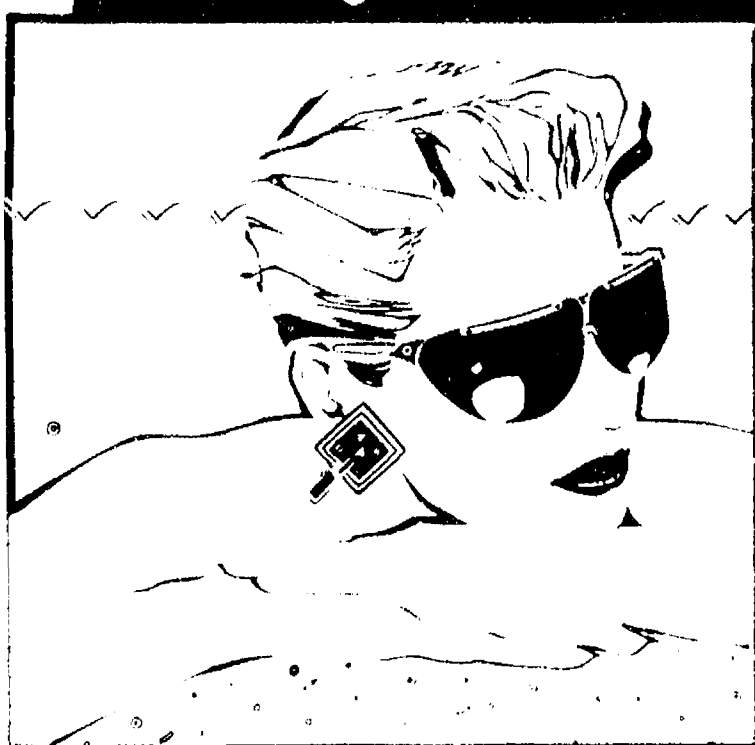

The business meeting ended with Joan (Cassidy) Rose leading the group in singing the Frederic School Song. A poem "School Mates," was written and read by Joe Murphy.

ATTENDS ENGINEERING WORKSHOP. Nicole Barnes of Frederic is shown building an audio amplifier and operating it with an oscilloscope in an electrical engineering lab at Michigan Technological University. Niki attended Michigan Tech's annual Women in Engineering Program, where high school women participate in workshops in applied technology, biotechnology/forestry, and several fields of engineering. Doodles from the Tall Timber

By Wendall L. Hoover

Older trees in our forest are subjected to a variety of problems which eventually cause their deaths. The wind may break off limbs or their tops, fires cause scars and insects, such as carpenter ants, attack them. Wounds are invaded by fungi which causes the heart wood to decay. Over a period of time the tree loses its value as a lumber producer and our first thought is to cut the tree down.

I would suggest the following information be considered before cranking up the saw. Over hundreds of years, many species of birds and animals have come to depend upon the cavities that are created by nature for rearing their young and for shelter.

Birds such as house wrens, bluebirds, woodpeckers, tree swallows, titmice, screech owls and wood ducks require cavities for nesting. Raccoons and squirrels are also dependent upon cavities. Some of these species are so adapted to using cavities their numbers would be sharply reduced or even eliminated without them.

The next time you are going to cut down an old bone-filled tree, remember all the wildlife that are dependent upon it for survival. Without the tree, you may not have that woodpecker or chickadee at your feeder or the squirrels or raccoons to hunt.

Resource Review

By Bruce Patrick,
Conservation Officer

White perch were accidentally introduced into the Great Lakes a few years ago, probably in the bilge of an ocean-going freighter. Since then they have become common in many parts of the state. This small fish has the potential to absolutely devastate sport fishing for many species throughout the Great Lakes states.

At present, white perch are spread mainly through commercial minnow dealers, who net the fish in infected waters and ship them state wide with their product. In an effort to slow this process, Assistant Fisheries Division Chief David P. Borgeson has sent the following letter to Michigan Bait Catchers and Wholesalers:

"White perch (Morone americana), have become well established in Lake Huron, especially Saginaw Bay. They are also abundant in Lake Ontario, Lake Erie, Lake St. Clair and the Detroit and St. Clair rivers. Small white perch can be taken in minnow seines in substantial numbers at certain times of the year. They are not legal bait minnows."

The white perch poses a serious threat to Michigan's inland fishstocks. You should be careful in all your operations to make sure that white perch and any other fish that are not legal bait minnows do not reach retail outlets. Please notify your customers to be watchful also and urge them to destroy — not sell — any non-minnows that mistakenly reach their tanks.

I cannot stress too much how important it is that each and every one of you cooperate fully in this matter. Michigan's minnow business is very important economically and it is an important service to sportsmen. But commercial minnow operations cannot be allowed to put our inland lakes at needless risk of unwanted introductions of exotic fish species.

You are professionals in this business and it is up to you to take immediate action to make sure your operations are clean and beyond reproach."

PLAYFUL CRITTER—Goofy is a three-year old male springer mix. He is full of play and would make a great pet for children. Crawford County Shelter hours are Monday through Friday from 1-3 p.m. and on weekends from 11 a.m. to 12:30 p.m.

Pet Care Tip

Every summer, thousands of cats and dogs die needlessly when left inside parked cars, say Crawford County Animal Control Officers. Even when the car windows are slightly open, the rapid build-up of heat inside can reach well over 160 degrees in just a few minutes.

Pets don't sweat the way people do. They cool themselves through their lungs by panting. When the air becomes too hot, brain damage and eventual death results.

Even shaded parking areas, open windows and air conditioned cars with the motors off will not prevent your pet's death from heat prostration.

If you must take your pet along in the car, have another person stay with it while you're gone. Ask your companion to take the animal for a walk or a rest in the shade. Provide cool, fresh water for it to drink.

Act immediately if you see an animal enclosed in a car on a summer day by calling the nearest police officer or humane organization for help.

Verse or Worse

By Joe Murphy

SCENES FROM YESTERDAY

As I drive by our old farm in my mind I see
Many scenes from days that used to be
There's Dad in the big field mowing hay
There's Mom in the garden, picking peas today

As soon as I have this weeding done
I'll go help her, we'll make hard work fun
We'll laugh and talk as we work along
Or maybe sing an old time song

There will be creamed potatoes and peas for supper tonight

A dish I look forward to with pure delight
This afternoon I'll find a strawberry patch
When I come back I'll have a good big batch

Mom will make us shortcakes that taste like a dream
Or big bowls full drowned in cream
My heart is filled with awesome joy
A happy bare foot country boy

We all work hard, but when work is done
There's always time for boyhood fun
Maybe I'll saddle Babe and go for a ride
There's a pretty girl that lives in the country side

I guess I'll go see her tonight
I hope her brother and I don't just have a fight
For he likes to tease me when I come to call
Some times I don't see Sally at all

We just go at it tooth and nail
Sometimes I win, sometimes I fail
But I just can't let him drive me away
For Sally gets more beautiful day by day

But now those scenes from childhood fade away
And I see things as they are today
The buildings at the farm are gone
And Mom and Dad have both passed on

When I saw Sally the other day
She was bent with age and her hair was gray
With saddened heart I drive away
Haunted by scenes from yesterday

A Look At Our Past

A Job Well Done On The Fourth Of July Celebration

A LITTLE TOO SLICK — Here two young fellows find the grease pole just a little too slippery and decided to take a swim. The celebration began with a huge parade down street, with a spectacular fire works display at dark.

23 Years Ago July 13, 1967

Tuesday, July 4th, turned out to be a day for fun for the many, many people who took part in the Grayling Fire Department's planned entertainment, in spite of little cooperation from the weather. With temperatures in the low 50's, folks just put on their jackets and joined in the celebration. For this, the Firemen express their great appreciation, also to the American Legion, Bob LaMotte Sr., Gus Williams, Jack Millikin and Bob Nelson for their helping out the Department's fund raising campaign.

Winners in the day's events started with Pete Funck, Dan McIsaac, Robert Sheppard, and Norman Bancroft at the grease pole walk. In the foot race winners were Kim Walker, Bill Horning, and Ed Distelrath. In the egg toss contest winners were the mother and daughter team Mrs. Ken Laeder and Linda, father and son team Clayton and Mitchell Hildebrandt, Paul Mauren and Louis Nielson, and Mike McNamara and Jon Thompson. Winner of the aluminum fishing boat was Norvin Roberts.

Peter R. Marsack, 17, of rural Roscommon, arrested on an open charge early Sunday Morning, July 2nd, in the fatal shooting of Roger Hartman, 40, also rural Roscommon, was released Thursday from Roscommon County jail.

46 Years Ago July 13, 1944

With the 37th Infantry Division on Bougainville-For exemplary conduct in combat, Pvt. Robert W. Feldhauser of Grayling, Michigan, has been presented the Army's newest award for infantrymen, the Combat Infantryman Badge. Awarded for exemplary conduct in combat or for combat action in a major operation, the new medal is a silver rifle on a blue field with a silver border imposed on an elliptical silver wreath. Pvt. Feldhauser is the son of Robert C. Feldhauser. Since starting his tour of overseas service, he has been stationed on New Zealand, Fiji Islands and Guadalcanal. He is a veteran of the New Georgia Campaign, and is a member of the infantry regiment which repelled the Japanese attack on Hill 700 in four days of historically intense fighting which saw the annihilation of more than 1700 of Japan's Imperial Division, infamous for the 1938 Rape of Nanking.

Don Kangas, son of Mr. and Mrs. Anton Kangas, has been promoted to Corporal Technician and at present is assigned to duty at Fort George G. Meade, MD.

Thelma Papendick, daughter of Sheriff and Mrs. John Papendick, became the bride of Sgt. Howard Madsen, son of Mr. and Mrs. Carl Madsen of Gaylord, July 8. The groom is home on leave from Camp Ellis, Ill., and will return to camp about July 22. The bride will return to Lansing where she is employed. Mrs. Madsen graduated from Grayling High School in the class of 1941.

Jess Sales has just received a letter from Col. Hardin Sweeney, who is serving in the South Pacific area, indirectly under General MacArthur. Col. Sweeney has just recently been awarded the Bronze Star, a newly designed service decoration, which was awarded him by the War Department for "special meritorious service." He is connected with the supplies department, one of the most important cogs in war. Col. Sweeney was a Grayling boy and is well known here.

69 Years Ago July 14, 1921

Last Thursday occurred the marriage of Miss Gladys Everett to Claude H. Carver of McKennic, Tennessee, in Detroit. Rev. Brown of the Baptist Church performed the ceremony.

Miss Libbie E. Malco of Grand Rapids and Mr. Herman Wilcox of Muskegon, both formerly of Maple Forest, were quietly united in marriage by Rev. J. C. Milke, Saturday at the home of the bride's mother.

Little Donald Peterson, two and a half year old son of Mr.

and Mrs. Hans L. Peterson, fell out of bed backwards Sunday morning and suffered a broken collar bone.

A daughter, Elizabeth Jane, was born to Mr. and Mrs. Isaac Bousley at the home of Mrs. Bousley's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Louis LaMotte, in this city on Sunday.

A son, Bernard Ray, was born to Mr. and Mrs. Robert Feldhauser in Maple Forest Monday.

The Knecht brothers, in Grayling, with one of the finest orchards in the state, played their usual trick by taking a basket of as fine cherries as ever grew to Dr. O. Palmer, for old acquaintances' sake.

Mrs. Adler Jorgenson returned from Detroit Friday after visiting at the home of her son Benton and wife. Benton was recently married to Miss Beatrice Bauman of Detroit.

Miss Margrethe Bauman is visiting a school friend in Minneapolis, Minn. this week.

Summer Karate classes meet at Hanson Hills in the former Bear Archery Museum Building on Tuesday and Thursday from 6:00 to 7:30 p.m. For further information, call instructor Sandy Hasson at 348-9337.

Camp Grayling Conservation Club To Offer Hunter Safety Courses

First time hunting license applicants will be able to obtain their mandated course work through members of Camp Grayling Conservation Club.

The club members agreed to offer a Hunter Safety course on September 8-9 or alternate dates near that time if there are serious conflicts. Lt. Ron Latuszek will act as lead trainer with other certified members as his assistants. Further information will be announced as the time draws nearer for the fall hunting season, Latuszek said.

On another matter at the recent meeting, it was agreed to undertake some erosion control projects on the Manistee River. A committee will examine some of the sites that have been identified by a recent survey of the stream by the Upper Manistee River Restoration Committee. The eroded segments that are found to be within the scope of the club member's volunteers will be corrected as soon after the sites are located as dates can be arranged. Committee members agreed that it would probably not be before the fall. It was announced at the meeting that there had been a winner in the baby bird contest sponsored by the club. Over 300 bird house kits were distributed this spring and over 100 elementary school youngsters participated.

The matter of feeding deer was discussed at length but it was decided to postpone it for this year because not enough information was available on how much hay would be needed to feed even one spot for the winter. It was pointed out that running out midway through the winter would be catastrophic to the animals and obtaining additional bales late in the winter would be prohibitively expensive. More information will be obtained and a good plan established for the winter of 1991.

In other matters the club agreed to affiliate with the National Rifle Association and to begin holding work bees to refurbish their clubhouse on Jones Lake Road.

Newly elected Michigan United Conservation Clubs President Bud Slingerland attended the meeting and had some encouraging words about the Camp Grayling Club's good works projects. He noted that the bird house contest might well be a subject for the Michigan Out of Doors magazine.

CCFA Holds Garage Sale

The Concerned Citizens for Animals' 1st ever Garage Sale was a success, according to the group's president Betsey Mitchell.

The sale was held on Saturday, June 30, at the Crawford County Animal Shelter, in conjunction with a shelter open house. Mitchell said that doughnuts, orange drink and coffee was served to shoppers and guests, thanks to donations by Dawn Donuts, Goodale's Bakery and McDonald's of Grayling.

Funds raised from this event will go toward finding homes for animals and making physical improvements at the animal shelter.

Mitchell praised the people who donated items to sell and who worked to plan and carry out this year's sale. She said the CCFA plans to make the garage sale an annual event, probably the second week-end of every May.

She added that CCFA memberships are available at $10.00 a year, by writing to her at P.O. Box 405, Grayling, MI, 49738.

ENGAGEMENT—Mr. and Mrs. John C. Stone of Houghton announce the engagement of their daughter, Julie Kay, to Brian J. Diercks, son of Mr. and Mrs. Edward (Jim) Diercks of Grayling.

The bride-to-be is a student at Michigan Technological University, studying scientific and technical communication. The future groom is also a student at MTU, studying mechanical design technology.

An August wedding is planned.

The Bible Speaks

From Calvary Baptist Church

A Tribute to Claire F. Olin

Claire F. Olin gained little wealth or fame in his 85 years on planet earth. Most of his productive time was spent in the northland of the lower peninsula of Michigan. He did the work of an evangelist, missionary and pastor while laboring with his hands to minister to the temporal needs of his wife and five children. He directly established or served in at least a dozen northern Michigan churches during this time. For ten of those years he was in Crawford County as pastor of First Baptist Church of Frederic and at Lovells Chapel.

He began his ministry as the old circuit riders of old, opening three closed churches. He preached at Gladwin in the morning, Evart in the afternoon, and Avondale at night.

His first home in the ministry was a rented granary. Later he was able to construct a parsonage from used donated materials. He helped found what is now Forest Haven Youth Camp at Ocqueoc, and the Northern Michigan Baptist Round Robin Missionary Conference. Time and space would not permit any detailed account of his Christian productivity. His life touched to some extent almost every Bible-believing church in northern Michigan.

Before His Lord called him home, June 13, 1990, brother Olin penned his last earthly testimony which reads in part: "I have had a wonderful life for the Lord. Many hardships to be sure but untold blessings in seeing many, many precious souls turned to Christ in every place we have been. Plus the blessing of seeing people grow and become useful in the Lord's work. We have many missionaries and pastors who have been saved and helped during our many pastorates." "When I was saved and later baptized, my father said to me 'If you are going to waste your life that way, I'll not spend another dime on you.' The next day I left home and worked my way through high school and Moody Bible Institute. At 17 I won my first soul to Christ, 61 years later I won a Catholic man of 76 years old to Christ and the Lord only knows how many in between. So nearly 64 years down the road from that dark day I can thankfully and gratefully say I wish I had a dozen lives to invest for Him, my Lord and soon coming Savior. I do have them in those saved and sent out from these years of labor."

God said, "Let the elders that rule well be counted worthy of double honour, especially they who labour in the word and doctrine." (1 Timothy 5:17). I count it one of my personal privileges while serving 18 years as pastor in Grayling to have known brother Olin as a dear personal friend and supporter. These brief words are but a token honor to a spiritual giant. (Hear "The Bible Speaks" at 12:15 p.m. Tuesday on WQON 100 FM).

NEW BEGINNINGS

An eerie curtain of grey fog lingers ghostlike at the base of the mountains and hovers over the hushed valley below. Yet, the early morning sky is tinted with heather hues of delicate pink and lavender, as if airbrushed by an unseen artist.

The scene is almost hypnotizing, but suddenly the trance is broken as a brilliant color display takes shape behind the slate blue mountains.

Neon shades of bright pink, then fuchsia, followed by yellow gold and finally fiery red and orange wake up the sleepy sky. The sun slowly rises with its menagerie of colors.

God has given us a new day, heralded by all of the drama and excitement of the sunrise, setting the stage for a new beginning. He gives us this gift each day of our lives. We can depend on the sunrise.

We can depend on God. Worship Him this week and thank Him for new beginnings.

County Creates Community Corrections Advisory Board

The Community Corrections Advisory Board (CCAB) was recently formed by the Crawford County Board of Commissioners to plan, promote, and organize community corrections in Crawford County.

Membership of the 13 person advisory board is determined by either legislative designation by office or appointment by the Board of Commissioners.

P.A. 511, Michigan's Community Corrections Act, passed in December, 1989, allows for the creation of Community Corrections Advisory Boards by counties which choose to participate in community corrections.

The act's two main goals are 1) to involve local citizens in research, planning, development and implementation of programs for low risk, non-assaultive felons in that community and 2) to possibly expand the number and types of sentencing options for the court and beyond typical probation services. Such options

Youth Service Bureau Starts Summer Program

The AuSable Valley Youth Service Bureau has completed its first week of their Summer Counseling and Recreation Program.

On Monday, Group A swam at Pine Knoll and laid in the sun.

On Tuesday, Group B went to North Higgins Lake State Park for swimming. However, because of rain they had to change the day's activities. They had a free movie day complete with lunch and popcorn.

On Wednesday, Group A started the day with a hotly contested game of wiffleball, then went on a tour of the fish hatchery. For lunch, they ate picnic style at the park on the I-75 Business Loop. The kids played on the recreation equipment and then climbed on the tank in front of the American Legion. After lunch, they went to the Grayling Museum in town where the kids got an excellent look at Grayling's heritage. At the end of the day's events they played a few more games of wiffleball and had an Ice Cream Social for everyone.

On Thursday, Group B went canoeing on the AuSable River. They stopped at a canoe campground for lunch, then continued on the river journey.

For the week of July 9 the recreation schedule consists of the following: Monday - Group A: Swimming at North Higgins Lake State Park; Tuesday - Group B: Bowling; Wednesday - Group A: Funland at Houghton Lake; Thursday - Group B: Swimming at Pine Knoll.

The AuSable Valley Youth Service Bureau is a United Way supported agency.

may include, but are not limited to intensive supervision, work release, education, community service, restitution, and pre-trial services.

The Community Corrections Advisory Board's primary responsibility is to develop a comprehensive plan from research of its jail, Probate, District and Circuit courts, prosecutor's office, county demographics and sentencing patterns for 1989. Examples of pertinent information for the different areas would include:

Jail/prisons: jail sentencing records of persons serving 0-12 months and 12-24 months and inmate population statistics such as education, employment, substance abuse history and previous arrest records.

Probate, District, and Circuit Court and prosecutor's office: probation and sentencing records; age, gender, and previous records of those sentenced by the courts; whether those sentenced were local residents; and other statistical data.

County demographics: population studies, felony and misdemeanor population data, employment opportunities of an area, and other local statistics.

The plan will make recommendations to the state regarding local community corrections programming needed in Crawford County based on research and data collection in these areas.

Once Crawford County's comprehensive plan is approved, the Office of Community Corrections, in Lansing, will consider funding those programs or services through the county's Community Corrections Advisory Board.

The goals of the community corrections program are a reduction of low risk, non-assaultive inmates sent to state prisons, alternatives to jail for some pre-trial offenders, jail reduction opportunities for inmates participating in treatment and education program, and ultimately a reduction in the accelerating costs associated with the criminal justice system.

In short, community corrections provides the basis for local planning and leadership regarding our county's offenders. The state provides the funding for programs recommended in the county's comprehensive plan that may be needed to effectively deal with the local offenders.

Offenders who belong in prison or jail will still go there. Alternatives to jail may be considered for low risk, non-assaultive offenders. Judges will continue to make the decisions regarding each individual case.

Members of the Crawford County Community Corrections Advisory Board are: Jean Calhwaert, District Court; William Carey, Attorney; Mary Coy, business; Alton Davis, Circuit Judge and chairman of the advisory board; Thomas Haskel, Probate Court; Harold Hatfield, sheriff; John Huss, prosecutor; Dave Lemmen, probation/parole; Kent Reynolds, general public; Bill Ruddy, commissioner; Peter Stephan, city police; and Robert Smock, community alternative program. The position reserved for someone in the media field remains vacant.

CCAB meetings are scheduled for the second Friday of each month, at the courthouse, at 8 a.m. Interested citizens may attend meetings or obtain additional information from any CCAB member.

AUXILIARY DONATES--Victims of the forest fire in Crawford County will benefit from a donation made by members of the Mercy Hospital Auxiliary recently. Pictured are Sr. Marita MacNall, O.P., accepting a check for $165 on behalf of the AuSable Ministerial Association from Helen Leykauf, Past President of the Mercy Auxiliary. Applications for funding for victims may still be made out to the local Ministerial Association for those in need.

CONFISCATED PROPERTY—Sheriff deputy Todd M. Golnick is shown with property taken from the two Lovells Township residences.

Lovells B & E Suspects Arrested

Two Lovells Township men were arrested on Friday, July 6, for breaking and entering and possession of stolen property. The Crawford County Sheriff Dept. said these arrests may solve a large portion of the B&E's in the northeast portion of Crawford County.

Early Friday morning, Sheriff deputies arrested a 22 year-old man for possession of stolen property after they searched his residence and recovered approximately $3,000 in stolen merchandise from several area B&E's.

According to the police, several additional warrants for breaking and entering are being sought for him as well as warrants for one or two other individuals suspected of participating in the thefts.

Friday evening deputies arrested a 28 year-old man for breaking and entering. A search of his home also turned up several stolen items.

Both men are free on bond. Their names are being withheld pending arraignments.

Gail Edwards Appointed to Emmet County Job

Gail L. Edwards, of Roscommon, became the director of the Michigan State University Cooperative Extension Service in Emmet County on June 25.

She began her Extension career in 1981 as the Extension home economist for Roscommon, Crawford and Oscoda counties. In 1986, her assignment was shifted to Crawford and Oscoda counties, and since 1987 she has been the home economist for Roscommon and Crawford counties.

In her new capacity, Edwards will be responsible for the continued operation and development of Extension's educational programs in agriculture and marketing, natural resources and public policy, 4-H youth and home economics.
